COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The deadline for filing nomination papers with the Town Clerk for town office is Saturday, Feb. 14th. Anyone wishing to take out nomination papers may obtain them at the Town Clerk's office. This year for the first time the office of selectman and assessor will be filled by electing two for three years, one for two years, and two for one year. There are also two positions on the school committee to be filled, one for three years and one for two years.

It is anticipated that all material for the town report will be in the hands of the printer by the end of this week. This should insure early delivery of the annual report.

Miss Cormier, who represents the Div. of Public Assistance in Bethel, is again making her regular Tuesday visit at the Town Office. Anyone wishing to see her may make arrangements through the Town Office.

It is interesting to note that the 1958 unpaid taxes amount to $1,012.24 less than one year ago. This year the unpaid list totals $8,283.39, last year it was $10,195.53.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

Edmond Vachon to Succeed Elwood Ireland as Gould Acad. Headmaster

Elwood F. Ireland

Edmond J. Vachon

Slaney W. Davidson of New York, President of the Board of Trustees of Gould Academy, Bethel, announces that on June 30, Elwood F. Ireland will retire as headmaster and will be succeeded by Edmond J. Vachon.

Mr. Davidson stated: "During Mr. Ireland's headmastership of Gould, beginning July 1, 1940, strong courses have been developed, particularly in the fields of mathematics, science and language, the campus has been expanded, and the Farnsworth Field House and the Arthur L. Walters, M. D. Infirmary have been erected.

"Under Mr. Ireland's devoted and selfless leadership, Gould has made advances which have been recognized throughout the field of secondary education.

"Mr. Ireland has devoted thirty-nine years to school work and he and Mrs. Ireland will make their home at their farm at Whitefield, Maine, which they recently acquired and modernized. They have the best wishes of all friends of Gould for a happy life in their new environment.

"Gould was fortunate to find as Mr. Ireland's successor a member of the present faculty."

Gould Academy a coeducational boarding school, founded in 1852, has students from many states and several foreign countries and serves as the town high school of Bethel. Its principal benefactor is the late William Bingham 2nd of Bethel.

Mr. Vachon, associate headmaster for Gould and faculty member for nineteen years, was born in Rochester, New Hampshire in 1909. He holds degrees of Bachelor of Arts from the University of New Hampshire and Master of Arts from Middlebury College. He is president and trustee of Bethel Savings Bank, trustee of Bethel Library Association, a director and treasurer of the Bethel Area Development Corporation, and a member of Bethel's Zoning and Appeal Board. Now a Lieutenant Colonel in the United States Army Reserve, he enlisted as a private in World War II, became a Major, and saw active service in the European Theatre. His wife is the former Sudie Lee Gunter. They have a son, Paul Edmond, and their home is on Paradise Road in Bethel.

Upon being asked for comments, Mr. Ireland stated: "Naturally, I am extremely gratified and have a feeling of personal satisfaction that the trustees of Gould have selected Mr. Vachon as my successor. I brought him to Gould with me as French teacher when I came as headmaster, advanced him to senior master in 1941 and the trustees appointed him as associate headmaster in 1956. He has contributed much to Gould since 1940 and Gould's development will continue soundly under his able leadership."

Mr. Vachon when asked for comments made the following statement: "I consider it a great privilege and honor to succeed Mr. Ireland as headmaster of Gould Academy. His departure from the scene after a tenure of nineteen years, characterized by academic growth and physical expansion, will be deeply felt by me personally and by all who have had the benefit of his leadership for so many years as Gould. He has a superb record of achievement and of public spirit. I know I speak for the hundreds of students, the parents, the alumni, the faculty and the friends of Gould far and near when I express heartfelt best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Ireland for many years of happiness in their new life."

V. A. NEWS LETTER

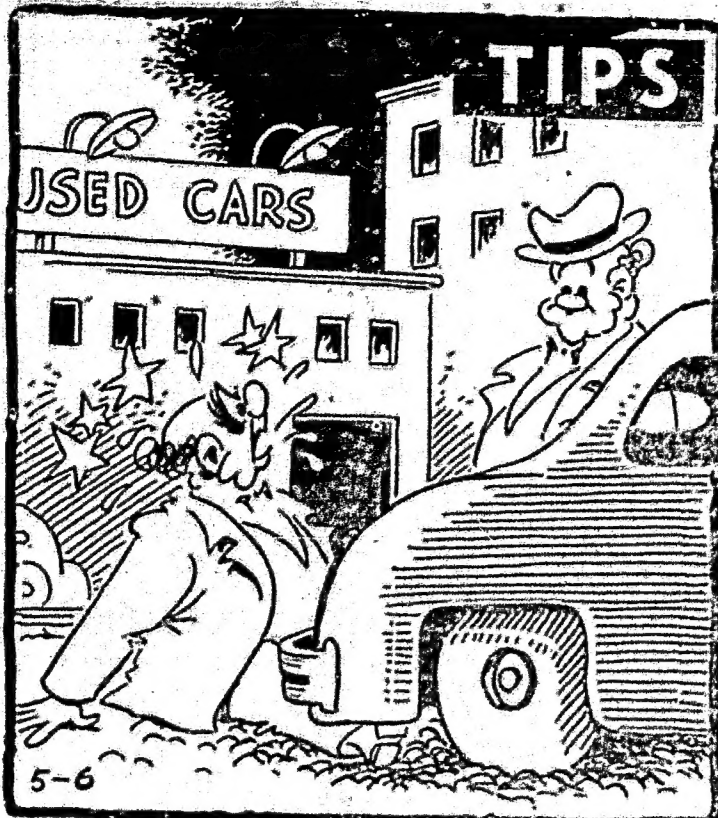

War Orphans, 14 years or older, with a mental or physical handicap, can obtain special restorative or vocational training supervised by the Veterans Administration under the War Orphans Education program. It has been announced by the VA.

Under recent legislation, VA now can assist those children whose mental or physical handicaps are impediments to gaining a formal education.

VA's Vocational Rehabilitation Board must first select those eligible for such specialized training, when after investigation, that board decides it would be in the child's best interest. The agency's vocational counselors then determine the course of study and set up a separate and distinct program for each student.

Applicants for War Orphans Education generally must be between 18 and 23 years of age. Also, they either must have completed high school or have left school upon reaching compulsory school age.

War Orphans Education is for the sons and daughters of WW I, WW II, or Korean War veterans who died of service-connected causes. They may receive up to 36 months of schooling, with VA paying an allowance of up to $110 a month. Applications for specialized training should be accompanied by a statement showing the handicap.

Mrs. Charles E. Nickola

NICKOLA-GIBBS

On Saturday, January 24th, at 11 a. m. at the Lake Shore Park Methodist Church, Lynn, Mass., Miss Nancy Flora Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Gibbs of 11 Langview Way, South Peabody, became the bride of Charles E. Nickola, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nickola of 19 Union Street, Peabody. Rev. Francis J. Marzocco officiated. Mrs. Alfred Lawson was vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white bouquet tulle and Chantilly lace, fastened with a Chapel train. Her blusher finger ring was attached to a crown of sequins and pearls, and her flowers were a cascade of white roses and ivy centered with a white orchid.

The maid of honor Miss Clio Nickola, sister of the bridegroom, wore a gown of moss green velvet with shoes that matched, also a matching velvet hat with veil. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of carnations.

Wedding guests of coral lace over tulle were worn by the bridemaids, Miss Betty Lee York of Bethel, Maine, and Miss Laura Wilson of Portsmouth, N. H., cousins of the bride. They had matching shoes and velvet hats with veils, and carried old-fashioned bouquets of green-tinted roses.

The flower girl, Debra Woodcock, of South Woodstock, Conn., four-year old cousin of the bride, wore a dress of pale green tulle and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

William Nickola of Peabody, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were James Nickola of Peabody, brother of the bridegroom, and John Quarteroni of Salem, brother-in-law. Allan Gibbs, brother of the bride, was junior usher, and David Quarteroni, three year old nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

The bride's mother wore champagne brocade sheath gown and flowered hat in deep rose and white with corsage of matching tea roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a spring print gown of grey and yellow with harmonizing accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for more than 100 guests was held at the Hotel Hawthorne in Salem, where Mrs. Florine Bowden, aunt of the bride, had charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Peabody High School, class of 1954, and is in her senior year at the Salem Hospital School of Nursing. The bridegroom also was graduated from Peabody High School, and is a graduate of Franklin Technical Institute. He is employed by the General Electric Company, Lynn, Mass.

After a plane trip to New York, the couple are making their home at 10 Hawthorne Place, Salem, Mass.

THERMOMETERS

The thermometer tells the time is here when forthright statements need to be made concerning the legitimate desire which measures temperature. There is no doubt that thermometers serve a purpose in many ways, but it is necessary to choose wisely to avoid a distressing picture of mental resources that a one time farmer is not competent to judge this instrument.

All a farmer knows is that he goes with the weather, studies the stars to compare and take a certain amount of satisfaction when the experts' calculations have to spend time explaining why things do not happen as they should according to complicated charts. Furthermore, when a man goes to the store for cream (or to the grain store for a few bags of seed) and encounters the expert, talking weather with the fellow farmers.

There is however one phase of the thermometer situation that needs attention. It is not that the same person who always chooses the latest reading in mid-summer should invariably have the latest reading in winter. A thermometer is basically a simple instrument with some concentrated substance such as mercury which changes with a change in temperature. If you are particularly mind of you can reduce degrees Fahrenheit to degrees centigrade by subtracting 32 degrees and multiplying by five eighths. To reduce degrees centigrade to degrees Fahrenheit multiply by nine eighths and add 32.

Now no have thermometer thermometers there are certain times that require the latest reading to a 32 cent degree below zero. Some carpenters and a corner water fanner often find it is the best thermometer that is available as one of the advantages in a good thermometer is its ability to be used in a wide range of temperatures.

HAYDN'S TWO-CRUST PASTRY

This is an special occasion to which I have made considerable study. It is a little something that I have been cooking since half a dozen years now, and they still treat me with amazed skepticism. When I announced I was going to originate my own pie crust the reaction was what I expected. I have worked on this formula many times to get just the degree of flavor I wanted. Naturally you eat your pie with the point away from you and get rid of the crust first. But when you come to eat, let's have a good one. I don't eat this to country flavor. Checkbook, but it is what I like. Grade A.

TODAY'S meditation

Thursday, Feb. 5

Read John 13:1-17.

I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think. (Romans 12:3).

ONE day some soldiers were repairing a road. As they were attempting to lift a heavy timber, an officer not in uniform came riding by. Seeing the struggling men, he stopped to watch.

Struggle as they might, the men could scarcely move the heavy timber. The officer asked the commander why he did not take hold and help. With a superior air, the commander replied, "Sir, I am a corporal."

"Oh, I ask your pardon, Corporal," said the officer gravely. Then he dismounted from his horse, and assisted the men. Then he turned to the corporal and said, "Corporal, whenever you have such a job on hand and not enough men to handle it, send for your Commander-in-Chief, and he will come and lend a hand again."

How true indeed are the Master's words, "Whoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."

PRAYER: Gracious God, our Father, Thou didst humble Thyself by sending Thy Son into the world for the redemption of mankind. Humble us now by increasing our awareness of how much we fall short of Thy glory. In Jesus' name we ask it. Amen. Thought For The Day

"Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up." —Henry H. Schooley (Rhode Island)

GOULD TAKES MEXICO, 42-40
Gould came through with its first victory here last Tuesday, taking Mexico High 42-40. It was a red hot third period with Kinsman doing some fine floor work and feeding that sent Gould out front 29-19 as the final period started.

Art Leavitt, high point man of the game with 17, scored 10 of his points in the final period period to give Husky fans something to worry about before the final gun.

The Gould JV's played their best game of the year to make it a double victory, this one by a one-sided 40 to 30 score.

Brighter Prospects for the Cotton Textile Producers

For the past few months, the textile industry has experienced a strong pickup in orders and a moderate firming of prices. Whether this will continue or prove to be a false start has not been fully ascertained. However, more and more it appears that present strength has substantially greater vitality than past recovery attempts and many mills are now backlogged into the second quarter. With worthwhile earnings gains in store, we believe certain textile stocks can be purchased at these levels with little downside risk.

Among equities we favor for current purchases are Burlington Industries, Cone Mills and United Merchants and Manufacturers.

The textile industry, well known for the cyclical nature of its operations, has been showing signs of an upturn since last summer when the mills first attempted to raise fabric prices from the post World War II lows recorded in the spring of last year. Eighty square print cloth, the barometer of the market in unfinished cotton fabrics, which dropped to a low of $0.17 a yard last year, is currently quoted at $0.18 1/2 a yard. While the industry is still not positive that print cloth prices can be held at present levels or possibly increased, or that present volume will be maintained, the feeling is definitely one of optimism.

One of the reasons for this is the apparently successful attempts that many of the leading manufacturers have made in controlling production and eliminating a portion of the excess capacity which has plagued the industry. Several of the leading mills have now cut back from a six day week to five, while additional holiday closings have also been inaugurated. With production somewhat restricted and a substantial rise in price, it was natural to expect some price rise. However, this has been strengthened by the boom in consumer goods and the depleted inventories of most retailers at the 1958 year-end. Demand for cotton goods, which for the first three quarters of 1959 ran substantially behind the previous year, in the fourth quarter ran at the highest level since the Korean War. This is continuing and some manufacturers are now orderbacklogged through the second quarter on certain fabrics, a condition not experienced in several years. While it is too early to forecast last half demands, indications are that the present rate should be maintained in the second half and that a further rise in prices may occur.

A final contribution to the expected earnings improvement has been the recent trend in raw cotton prices. Cotton traditionally makes up a large percentage of the cost of cotton textiles. Therefore, any change in the price of cotton affects profit margins substantially. Recently cotton, due to lower government support prices, has been declining and it appears that this trend will continue based on present farm legislative policies.

It is this rise in cloth prices and the drop in cotton which assures significantly better profit margins. While an increase in wages is a likelihood and must be taken into account, we do not visualize it as impairing the anticipated 1959 improvement significantly. It would seem from this that the stage is set for a further marked improvement in the fortunes and share prices of most textile producers.

Our bulletin board display is rather attractive. It is divided into sections showing the ten provinces of Canada, as well as the two territories, Yukon and Northwest. Each has interesting pictures, maps, etc., of the area. We have studied about several famous men of January. They are Daniel Webster, Benjamin Franklin, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Robert E. Lee, William McKinley and Stonewall Jackson.

Due to circumstances the date of the 8th Grade Fair has been changed to Feb. 6, 1959. We are having movies, dancing, games, and other activities. Refreshments will be served. — Mrs. Lurvey's group is studying American History and Mr. Holm's group is studying Maine History. Reporters, Raymond Harrington, Dale Lapham.

Grade 4—Miss Ballard We are enjoying the skating rink very much. In arithmetic we have been studying on the table of 7's. We are working on problems too. — We received a gold star in writing last month and hope we will get one next time.

Grade 5—Mrs. Hastings The fifth grade boys and girls have just learned to add and reduce fractions. And we are studying the Middle Atlantic states. We are making a bulletin on Berry, Junior, presented the class with a self made patch work quilt. Daily sandwich sales at recess and food sale at Penley's Mill every other Wednesday.

With the many senior activities that are coming soon, such as the class trip and graduation, the class is continuing to add to their bank account the needed money to support these events with sandwich sales and selling of tickets on a percolator. A successful record hop in January netted a good profit. Committee for the hop was Shelly Heath, Rodney Abbott, and Alice Hurdell. Sandwich sale committee: Mary Ann Perham and Alice Hurdell.

During the school year the girls from the sophomore, Junior and senior classes are taking part in the daily office work. For the third term the personnel will consist chiefly of seniors. The girls who volunteered to work this term are Joanne Haselins, Alice Hurdell, Mary Ann Perham, Irene Berry, Alice Young, Lorelei Waisanen and Laila Maki.

The movie "The Littlest Giant" was shown to the Business Arithmetic students recently. This was an educational film depicting the development of attitude toward consumer finance institutions. It dealt briefly with the need for the small loan companies from which the working man can borrow money, the legislation involved in bringing them into being and illustrated safeguards imposed by law on these companies.

George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Grade 6—Miss Varner

We had an interesting filmstrip on the West Indies that we are studying in Social Studies. — Miss O'Connor, our writing teacher, will be here next Monday. We are working hard to get a good real. We are thinking of some musical numbers to use in a show which we hope to present in March. Next week several Reading Divisions will have new books. This week we are working on Map Studies in our Reading and in Social Studies.

PAUL DWYER MAY GET ANOTHER HEARING

Paul N. Dwyer of South Paris, serving a life sentence in state prison for murder, may renew his petition for a writ of error coram nobis at the February term of Superior court, which opened Tuesday at Rumford, with Justice Thomas Delehanty of Lewiston presiding.

Dwyer, convicted of the slaying of Dr. James Littlefield of Paris in 1937, has made several efforts to gain his freedom. Former Deputy Sheriff Francis Carroll, now deceased, was also convicted of the murder, and was freed through habeas corpus proceedings after serving 12 years.

Dwyer petitioned for a writ of error coram nobis before Justice Cecil Giddell in Oxford County Superior court at the last term and the petition was denied.

An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court and the high court overruled the decision of Justice Giddell on the grounds that evidence had been excluded which should have been admitted.

It is expected that another hearing on a similar petition will be held, and it may come at this term should a writ be granted. Dwyer could get a new trial.

BOILER ROOM BURNED AT NEW FAVEREAU MILL

The boiler room of the newly constructed Roger Favreau factory, at West Bethel, was destroyed about 2 a. m. last Thursday morning by a fire of undetermined origin.

Night Officer Albert Cotton discovered the blaze and reported to Roger Favreau and Fire Chief Frederick McMillin that it was completely destroyed at that time. Since the boiler room was set some 150 feet from the main building the fire department was not alerted.

Mr. Favreau estimated a loss of approximately $1,500, which included the building, tools and burner, not covered by insurance.

FEB. 15 IS FARM TAX DEADLINE

Maine farmers have only until February 15 to file income tax returns, says Extension Service Farm Management Specialist Lewis E. Clark. This deadline applies to persons who received at least two-thirds of their gross income from farming, and who did not file an estimate by January 15, provided their gross incomes exceeded $600. Also, persons over 65 years of age don't need to file returns unless they had gross incomes above $1,200 or unless self-employment net incomes exceeded $400. Several changes have been made in farmer's income tax regulations. To get the full story, farmers may get the new "Farmers' Tax Guide" from county offices of the Maine Extension Service.
